4. Unfinished Business Information
 - a. Event updates Update
 - i. "Keying Around"

There was discussion about the gala and the need for a planning committee. Planning needs to start soon and everyone should think if there's someone, other than committee members, who might be interested in helping to plan the event.

- ii. Council chambers art Update

Sharon reported that the leaded glass is not looking feasible due to lack of space behind the screen. Perhaps the piece could be used at Guy Cole. We may need to do fundraising to do that.

Sharon explained she had a conversation with the artist who designed the Burkett memorial piece. There is a possibility to do something with Seattle Glassblowing. There was discussion about using a local artist versus using someone off of the Peninsula.

- iii. Centennial tile kiosk Update

Several options have been considered. A discussion will take place with the Public Works Director to determine if placing the tiles behind the water fountains is feasible. This will be on the CAAC and Council agendas for March along with the old bell.

iv. Artistic Door Project

Update

Natalie has painted a door. The doors have all been delivered to Habitat and will be on display at the Civic Center during the March First Friday Artwalk.

v. Art classes

Update

Karen discussed the use of the Sequim Avenue building with staff. There is more research that needs to be done on this project.

5. New Business

a. "Paint the Town" concept

Information/Discussion

The Boys & Girls Club has a group of students who are interested in painting murals throughout the city. Murals are a big tourist draw in other cities.

Volunteers needed

Karen and Sharon will meet with the school district to discuss the feasibility of doing this project this year.

c. Carrie Blake Master Park Plan

Review

It was agreed a field trip to the parks would be helpful. Karen will set this up.

d. Other

There was discussion about having a retreat/planning session. Karen will contact commission members to determine if this is of interest to everyone.
